

SEAWIDE UPDATE

PENNSYLVANIA WAREHOUSE IS UP AND RUNNING

Dear Seawide Customer,

Please be advised our Youngwood, Pennsylvania warehouse is up and running today. The flood waters which forced the closing yesterday have receded. Unfortunately, our main carriers UPS and FedEx were unable to pick up our shipments yesterday.

Orders which were not diverted to one of our other warehouses yesterday will be shipped today. Orders not picked up by the carriers may have tracking numbers that show “not scanned in the UPS system”. These orders are on the trailer and will be picked up today. We cannot cancel these orders since they have been assigned to the carrier. For further assistance please contact our sales department.

We appreciate your patience during this unexpected flooding event.

We appreciate your business and continued support.
